

Auswertung „Soziogramm“

The image displays a large rectangular frame designed for a sociogram. The frame is composed of 48 empty ovals, arranged in 8 rows and 6 columns. The ovals are positioned at the corners and midpoints of the frame's perimeter, creating a grid-like structure. The central area of the frame is left blank, providing space for drawing connections between the nodes (the ovals) to represent social relationships. The ovals are simple black outlines with no text or markings inside.
